WORKSHOP
INTEGRATED EDUCATION IN “ONE HEALTH”
(public health, animal health and environmental health)

CALL FOR EXPERTS
Hungarian Academy of Sciences, Budapest, Hungary,
World Environment Day, Wednesday, 5 June 2013

The InterAcademy Medical Panel (IAMP) and the Federation of European Academies of Medicine (FEAM), are calling for the nomination of experts from IAMP and FEAM Member Academies, interested in participating in a workshop on “Integrated Education in One Health”.

The aim of the workshop is to share experiences and best practices, and discuss future activities on integrated education in “One Health” together with representatives of international organizations. Among the confirmed organizations and/or initiatives are the World Organization for Animal Health (OIE), the Youth Network Children's Environment and Health Action Plan for Europe (CEHAPE), and the European School Environment And Respiratory Health of Children (SEARCH) Project.

The event will also celebrate World Environment Day 2013.

For information and registration please contact the IAMP Secretariat, iamp@twas.org or the FEAM Secretariat, laurence.legros@feam.eu.com by 15 May 2013.

*For further information see the IAMP Website www.iamp-online.org.
Feel free to forward this invitation to colleagues and others that might be interested.*
